Tampere University Hospital, Finland

Neurology 2019, London, UK | July 11-13, 2019

I must admit that it has been as such also very educative. The core idea of these kind of conferences is excellent and I am happy being able to support such activity. I truly believe that we need these kind of conferences, where independent scientists, researchers, clinicians, academics, CEOs and investors have a chance to present their research data as well as to exchange their knowledge and to discuss practical hindrances there may be. Great initiative by Fmeetings to have each other's contact information and to be able to see the presentations from their own computers.

Zuyu Zhang
Beijing Normal University, China

Neurology 2019, London, UK July 11-13, 2019

I feel honor to attend this conference. Looking forward to attend future conferences.
